Dear Eric:

Just a quick note as I have come across two items that may be of interest due to the connection with the Fugio coins.

1) Amelia Broome Jarvis, the wife of James Jarvis, died at the age of 24 of an "apoplectic fit" in January 1789. The death was reported in the Litchfield Monitor. It does not say where she was living but the issue is dated January 12 and the death was the preceding Wednesday so it cannot have been far away.

2) James Jarvis died in 1793 in Richmond County, Georgia, according to a legal notice posted in May 1793 in the Augusta Chronicle. It is likely to be the James Jarvis of the Fugio coinage but this is uncertain until the Georgia records can be checked. He may have gone to Georgia for a fresh start after the death of his wife.

Sincerely
